Working together for sustainable digital banking adesso and CREALOGIX commit to partnership for portal solutions in the banking sector

Dortmund, 23. June 2020

IT service provider adesso and fintech company CREALOGIX are now offering banks a complete package for portal solutions in digital banking. By joining forces, the two partners are underlining their successful collaboration in major banking projects. The benefit of this alliance is that banks receive consulting services and proven products from a single source – from specialists who are well versed in the needs and challenges of the banking industry.

The fintech company CREALOGIX has established itself on the market over the past two decades as a provider of digital banking solutions for retail banking, wealth management and corporate banking. adesso has been using CREALOGIX solutions for banking portals in its banking projects for several years. In a joint project for Helaba Landesbank Hessen-Thüringen (Germany), the companies developed a modern information portal for the bank's corporate clients, thereby helping it to position itself as a pioneer in digital business banking. The two partners will channel the experience gained here into their collaboration moving forward, giving banks a sustainable product solution and competent advice relating to integration and application. Both partners work together as a well-established team offering a complete package for banking customers.

Portal solution for corporate clients: digital banking portal from CREALOGIX

Mark Lohweber, Director Line of Business Banking, arranged the partnership with CREALOGIX on behalf of adesso. For him, the portal concept from the Swiss software company is a first-class fintech solution: "As a system integrator, we always choose the technology that best meets our customers' objectives. In the case of the CREALOGIX solution, our experience over the last few years has shown that its implementation can be tailored to meet the wide range of needs of our banking customers."

Out-of-the-box software that offers much more: transactions in complex banking environments

The CREALOGIX portal solution supports payment transaction and liquidity management as well as functionalities related to asset management and securities trading at banks. Corporate clients can use the software to manage different bank contracts, access and consolidate account information from different banks, and record and initiate payments through them. Volker Weimer, Executive Vice President of CREALOGIX Germany, has this to say: “In business and corporate banking, modern banking portals must allow corporate clients to use multi-banking options, since most companies today maintain several banking relationships. Banks should be prepared to play a central role in the smooth running of payment transactions for their customers.”

The collaboration with adesso, a system integrator, makes it possible to take these industry requirements into account when integrating CREALOGIX solutions. Mark Lohweber continues: “adesso and CREALOGIX each offer almost 25 years of experience in the IT market. During this time, adesso has expanded its IT consulting expertise, and CREALOGIX has continuously optimised the quality of its software products, making them more tailored to the financial market. Together, we can provide the banking industry with system environments for modernising and expanding their customer channels.”
